Imagine being a member of a coalition of researchers, educators, and practitioners from many professions who work together to improve human health. We transform students into highly skilled health care practitioners who advance the health and well-being of society. Through research, we discover, evaluate, and implement new knowledge to improve models and methods of practice in pharmacy and health sciences from the urban to global levels. Arrive at your health career destination by accepting our invitation to explore the programs of the Eugene Applebaum College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences.

WHAT DOES A NURSE ANESTHETIST DO?
A nurse anesthetist is a healthcare professional who assesses and documents the patient's physical status, as well as selecting and implementing an appropriate anesthetic plan for the patient. They administer all forms of anesthesia, including general, regional, local and IV sedation. The nurse anesthetist works in a wide variety of settings, with responsibilities that include pre-operative, intra-operative and post-operative anesthesia care. The nurse anesthetist remains with the patient throughout the surgery. They also participate in acute and chronic pain management as well as cardiopulmonary resuscitation.

WHY WAYNE STATE UNIVERSITY?
Wayne State University is a premier urban research institution offering more than 340 academic programs to nearly 28,000 graduate and undergraduate students. The University provides a multidisciplinary approach to research and education, and collaborates closely with government, industry and other institutions on a range of programs.

The Eugene Applebaum College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences (EACPHS) is located on one of the largest academic medical campuses in the US and puts you in close proximity to the nation’s leading health care educators. A degree from the College puts you in good company, with more than 12,000 EACPHS-educated health care professionals in Michigan.

The Wayne State nurse anesthesia program offers superb classroom education and extensive clinical affiliations that provide experiences in all types of anesthetic management. The program is renowned for over 50 years of excellence in nurse anesthesia education, boasting a multitude of national and local leaders among its graduates. The program is accredited by the Council on Accreditation (COA) of Nurse Anesthesia Educational Programs. Upon program completion, the graduate is fully prepared to complete the National Certification Examination and to practice in the clinical setting of their choice as a Certified Nurse Registered Nurse Anesthetist.

Jennifer Parker is currently employed as a CRNA at Henry Ford Hospital Macomb. She appreciates the way that the WSU program integrates classroom and clinical experiences, as it allows students to apply what they learned right away, reinforcing new concepts. Additionally, the program exposes students to a diverse population. She says, “No matter what environment you choose to work in after graduation, you will have experienced similar cases and patients during your time in the program.” The program also keeps students current, as the courses are taught by practicing CRNA’s: the information is always “updated and relevant.” Parker is enjoying the role of the nurse anesthetist as it allows her to work autonomously and blends the skills needed as a bedside nurse with advanced practice.
